

REGENERATIVE NATURAL BEEKEEPING

2-DAY SEMINAR WITH KERRY JEHANNE

OCTOBER 17-18, 2015

Whether you have a backyard, a city rooftop, or a large piece of land – you can have a dynamic, positive impact on the health and survival of our honeybee population which is currently in crisis.

KERRY JEHANNE is a biodynamic farmer and beekeeper of over 14 years. She is featured in the movie “The Queen of the Sun” and teaches classes in natural beekeeping and the ways in which humanity and bees impact one other. She currently lives in Portland, Oregon.

This two-day Seminar is sponsored by:
Chicago GreenFriends and MA Center Chicago.

DAY 1: NATURAL BEEKEEPING Saturday, Oct 17 – 10:00-4:30

Geared towards those who are interested in starting hives, beekeepers who want to learn about natural methods, as well as those simply wanting to know more about the wonderful honeybee – this course provides an introduction to beekeeping, covering bee biology and behavior, bee hives and equipment, how to acquire bees, set up an apiary, and how to garden for pollinators.

DAY 2: WISDOM OF THE BEES Sunday, Oct 18 – 10:00-1:00

Bees are profound teachers, once revered as heavenly messengers and divine beings. The oneness of the bee colony reveals the interconnectedness of the world and our interdependence with nature – re-establishing a reverent and respectful relationship with bees. This seminar will take a deeper look into the life of the bee colony and its role in our own social and spiritual evolution.
